

Basic Domino Game

Object of the game: You are trying to be the first player to use all of your dominoes and have none left.

How to play: Place all of the dominoes on the table, face down. Mix them up! Each player takes seven dominoes and stands them up so that only they can see them. The rest of the dominoes stay on the table. (We will call them "the pile".)

The player with the highest double starts the game by placing it in the middle of the table. If neither player has a double, take turns to take a domino from the pile. The first double drawn starts the game. Players then take turns to add a domino to either end - which must match the number on the domino it touches. If you can't go, you must take dominoes from the pile (to add to your collection) until you take one that means you can go. If you still can't go, your opponent continues playing until you are able to play.
